New Nagambie resort attracts interest from near and far

Elloura, a new 300 lot lifestyle community on the banks of the Nagambie Lake, is attracting buyers from Melbourne and northern Victoria.

The resort, which will feature an extensive range of facilities including a beach, gardens, a residents recreation club, hotel and convention centre, is attracting the attention of water sport holidaymakers from Melbourne, semi-retirees from the city and residents from nearby regional areas who are looking for a lifestyle change without moving too far from the area they know and love.

Development Director Vince Loccisano from Lockland Group said Elloura, along with exciting plans to be implemented by local Council, would bring an influx of new faces into the town and breathe new life into the area.

“This is an exciting time for Nagambie,” said Mr Loccisano.

“The area has so much enjoyment to offer, including the beautiful lake, golf course and well known wineries – and all within a 1.5 hour commute from Melbourne making it popular with those who still need access to the city for business or family commitments.

“For some, Nagambie has been a long-time holiday destination – for others, it’s a new discovery and an opportunity to be part of a growing town that will offer residents more and more over the coming years.”

With all but three of the 20 waterfront home sites sold, Elloura has now launched ‘The Shores’ release, located at the banks of Lake Nagambie and offering a limited opportunity to secure a prime lake side position.

Blocks at The Shores range in size from 575 square metres to 392 square metres with some lots actually located opposite the beach. Prices start from $225,000.

Those interested in moving into the region can also choose lots priced from $99,500, with house and land packages available from under $250,000.
